STEPHEN GIRARD.

The Eccentric Millionaire Was a Man of Many Moods.

To get a subscription from Stephen Girard, founder of Girard college in Philadelphia, was not an easy matter. It required tact and the right introduction, and many failed, while few succeeded. It is told by the author of "The French Blood In America that Samuel Coates, a gental Quaker, was one of the few men who knew how to approach the eccentric millionaire. He was a manager of the Pennsylvania hospital and called on Girard for, the purpose of raising money for the support of that institution.

"Well, how much do you want, Coates?" asked Girard in his usual

"Just what thee pleases to give, Stephen," replied the Quaker. Girard wrote out a check for $2,000 and, handing it to Mr. Contes, was surprised to see that gentleman pocket it without looking at the amount.

"What! You don't look to see how much I give you?" cried Girard incredulously.

"Beggars must not be choosers, Stephen," replied the Quaker. "Give me back my check, and I will change it." said Girard after a moment's pause.

"A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush, thee knows, Stephen," mildly replied the Quaker. Without another word Girard sat down and wrote him out a second check for $5,000,

His farm on the outskirts of Philadelphia was one of the best in the country, and while living in town he 35 Congress Street. - Boston, Mass. often drove out before breakfast to see that all was going well. He was very exacting with his hired hands and never trusted the extuagement of his farm to any one else, but ran it himself, as he did all his affairs. Arriving one moruing a little earlier than usual, he was greatly annoyed at not finding his man at work on a fence that he was building. The man's wife, noticing Girard approaching the house, hurriedly awoke her husband and sent him to his duties by way of the back door. After visiting the house Girard returned to the fence and, seeing the man at his post, reprimanded him for being late.

"I'd been here, sir, but went back for a spade," said the workman. "No, you hadn't. I went and put my band in your bed and found it warm," replied Girard, and he discharged the man on the spot.

Cut Rate Contributors. In a certain parish of Greater New York the rector, while admonishing his flock on Sunday last that the collection basket receipts were steadily growing less, took occasion to declare that "certain parishioners contribute according to their means, but others give in keeping with their meanness." He added that in measure such exhibitions of talse pretense reminded him of the story told of the pilgrim fathers upon their arrival at Plymouth Rock, "First they fell upon their knees; then they fell upon the aborigines."

DISCRIMINATING LADIES.

In Distinctiveness,

The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpicide speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleaning the scalp of dandruff and also for its ex-cellence as a general hair-dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it aliays that itching which dandruff will cause Newbro's Herpicide effectively cures landruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out, and later baldness; in killing it. Herpleide stops falling hair and prevents baldness. HOUSE FOR SALE.

True, a tank of gaseline with no vent could do considerable damage were it to burst and throw burning oil and flaming gas about, but 1,000 gallous of gaseline in a vessel's bliges would not be so dangerous from explosion as a bundredth of that amount. The largor quantity would burn rapidly, while the similer would be sufficient, if mixed with the proper amount of air, to uttarly demolsh almost any boat.—Scientific American.

Aldrich's Birthplace.

The quaint old town by the sea called Portsmouth is the only seaconst founded in the year 1623, and it has a nistory worth knewing. It was an old town when Thomas Bailey Aldrich was born in one of its quaint and ancient houses on the lith of November in the year 1836, and he has written a very delightful book about Portsmouth called "An Old Town by the Sea," while his famous "Story of a Bad Boy" is a very true account of his boyhood in the New Hampshire scapert.—J.
